Also all the new Protocols from No 15 to No 20 inclusive.

After a long & careful discussion, the following Resolutions were drafted & passed all the new Protocols from No 11 to No 20 inclusive.

Upon a Report & Comment of this important, the following Resolutions were drawn & Report

Resolved that the King and His Ministers view with Regret so much of M. Perrins Despatch No 8 of 26th June, and of his Reply of 25th August, submitted to His Majesty's Plenipotentiaries on that day, as reopens odious matters, settled by the Resolution of the late King and the Joint Declaration of March 1837, by which Engagements they desire faithfully to abide.

Resolved, that the King and His Ministers see with some surprize, that M. Perrin in the Conference of the 29th August, while proposing that his own Reply or Statement aforesaid should be therein recorded in both languages, objected to the insertion in the same manner, of the Resolutions of the King's Cabinet, to which he replied and without which his Reply cannot be understood, with equal justice to both sides.

Resolved, that in vindication of the King's honour and good faith, from certain charges, understood as inculpating in M. Perrins Despatch No 8 of 26th June and in his aforesaid Reply; and in all due Respect to the Emperor under the Settlement made in March 1837, the Plenipotentiaries of the King are directed to prepare a Statement on their part, to be recorded in French and English in the Minutes of Conference - that not till after such Statement shall have been considered and approved by the King at a future Cabinet Council.

Mr Pillis stated, that at the Conference of yesterday, M. Perrin had distinctly and Emphatically impugned his veracity and imputed to him the intention of defeating the new Treaty, owing to the prejudice in his mind of old Controversies, rendering it doubtful whether he (Mr Pillis) could continue to Negotiate with M. Perrin, for the same Reason that he had to decline to Negotiate or confer with M. Dillon in 1849. He stated his Respect that, on this subject, he could not inform the King and his Colleagues correctly, till M. Perrin should return the Minutes of the 21st Protocol of Yesterday, which were now, in his hands.

Resolved, That this question cannot be decided upon, till after the King and Cabinet have the Minutes of Yesterday (the 21st Protocol) fully before them.

Mr Wyllie stated that having occasion to see M. Perrin this Morning to obtain from him 3 translations, he had suggested to M. Perrin, to prepare and submit a precise statement of the new treaty, such as France offers it to us, as the best means of avoiding delay and suspicion.

Mr Wyllie submitted the translations of M. Perrins Despatches No 18 of 29th December 1856 and No 9 of 15th July 1857, complaining of attacks on him by the Public Press, and especially by Dr Flick, also Chief Justice Allens opinion of Yesterday and D. Flicks letter of this date.

Mr Wyllie was instructed to pass Officially a Copy of Mr Allens Opinion to M. Perrin, Expressing to him that the Government much regret the attacks of which he complains, and that Dr Flick has given an assurance that he will abstain from them in future, unless under Extraordinary provocation, and even then, not until after shewing what he might wish to publish to Mr Wyllie.

Mr Wyllie stated that from the distrust of him personally, Expressed by M. Perrin, it might conduce to the favourable issue of the negotiation for the King to appoint in Mr Wyllies room another Plenipotentiary. Therefore, he suggested the propriety of sending to M. Perrin, the following Despatch.

Sir

Among other matters relating to negotiations with you, which it was the duty of His Royal Highness Prince Kamehameha and Myself to lay before the King and Cabinet this day, were those doubts which you Expressed in very Emphatic terms of the success of these Negotiations that adverse intentions which you imputed to me arising, as I understood you to say from the personal interest which I had in the old Controversies

Although I disavowed any such intentions and prejudices, and now repeat that I was conscious only of having ever entertained the any Contrary, Yet as the faintest suspicion of that kind in your mind might possibly injure the interests of the King in the New Treaty under discussion, it has pleased His Majesty, in knowledge of your professed objections, to remove them, by separating from the Negotiations

Mr Ingham read the minutes of the 24th Inst. & were approved. The Speech & Resolutions then read & approved.

The Chief Justice submitted the draft of a letter in reply to the Despatch No. 17 of 7th April - also his remarks Commentary on the Treaty which had been ordered to be laid before the Council on the 17th Instant.

Resolved that the letter is approved & Mr Ingham directed to keep it, open, to be sent to Boston; & that the Prince & he, attending the Court to obtain the important explanations & information wanting on that Treaty & to draw, and to conclude it, under the Direction of H.M. on Augt, & report their doings to H.M. Privy Council in Cabinet.

A Conversation followed on the Subject of the Journey from the Emperor to the King, in connection with other matters upon the 8 Queries which had been submitted to the King & Cabinet on the 24 Inst. (Pi). The Queries & the Questions are -

Questions to be considered in Cabinet in presence of Mr Lee, in connection with the proposed New Treaty with France.

1st Is it not the highest interest of the King and of the Hawaiian Nation, to preserve the confidence, the good will the sympathies and support of France.?

2nd Are all the outrages and losses occasioned by M. Dillon and Admiral de Tromelin in 1849, however magnified, of any weight or moment whatever, when compared with the advantages of such confidence, good will, sympathy and support?

3rd Is it wise to shew resentment and assume a repulsive attitude towards France, when she has held out to us the Olive Branch, by restoring Diplomatic Relations - by waiving the demand in regard to the Salute of the Consular flag - by a peace - offering of valuable presents in the name of the Emperor (the offer of which, whether to be excepted or not, will only be understood by all Nations as an acknowledgement of Error in the before named French Officers by the most decided support of the dearest interests of the King and his Government in 1854 and by the establishment of a Naval Station in Honolulu, for the protection of Hawaiian Independence. ?

4 11/4 How are the unexpected objections to the New Treaty with France, to be presented to the French Government, in a shape that will not give just Offence ?

5 11/4 What possible danger could there be entailed to the King, from faithfully carrying out the Conclusions of the Treaty, under His Majestys reservation of all points and principles, as conditions essential to its Ratification by Him, to be clearly expressed by Himself in a letter to the Emperor ?

6 11/4 Is there no danger in keeping on the French Government the new Amendments and Suggestions, made so much out of time and rule ; and even if all adopted, is there any reason to believe that they would form a better Treaty, than the Treaty as negotiated, after revisal by the French Government ?

7 11/4 Will it do credit to the King and His Government, to infringe without necessity, all the usual Rules of Negotiation - to assume that the French Government will interpret certain words and phrases, contrary to the sense given to the same words and phrases in other Treaties - Contrary to the understanding of the Negotiators and to the sense of the Protocols and to interpose all manner of technical objections and legal subtleties. ?

8 Are not such technical and legal subtleties condemned, by the best authorities, on Diplomacy, as those to be offensive ?

Mr Wyllie read the minutes of 30 Jany 1858
Chief Justice Allen, reported verbally, in favor of the reappointment of Kaiona, as necessary in a district where natives so much abound & suggested that the Resolution of the Cabinet of be rescinded so far as it applies to Kaiona.
Agreed that the Motion of the Chief Justice be adopted
The King having referred to the Resolution of the P. Council of the 20th June 1853 in regard to the presents from France, the minutes of that day were read & it was agreed that in the altered circumstances of our relations with France those resolutions do not apply in the present case of the Presents offered by the Emperor to the Hawaiian Sovereign, nor in fact ever could apply to such transactions
Mr. Perrin has officially declared in his dispatch No 8 of 26th June last that the decision of the Emperor under the reference of 24th March 1851, is what is declared in his dispatch No 9 of 21 March 1853 and during the 12th Conference of the 3d November 1853
That official declaration made by Mr. Perrin cannot be discredited, although the King & Cabinet had never understood those declarations of Mr Perrin, as all the decisions that were to be presented to them under the resolutions of the 24 March 1857
In view of these facts & the faith pledged by the late King & his P. Council on the 24th March 1857, the members of the Cabinet concur in recommending the King to receive the presents offered as a "grand mark of the affectionate sentiments of the Emperor", His Majesty enacting such a reply to Mr Perrin's Address as to His Majesty may seem discreet.

Chief Justice reported, verbally, in favor of the appointment of Kaonda, as necessary, in a district where natives to reside about & suggested

Agreed that the matter of the Chief Justice be adopted.

The King having referred to the Resolution of the Council of the 26th of June 1853, in regard to Presents from Natives, the minutes of that day were read; & it was agreed that in the altered circumstances of our relations, what was at that time necessary is not strictly in the present case of the Presents offered by the Europeans to the Hawaiian Sovereign, nor, in part, by Chiefs to their Sovereign.
Mr Perrin has recently declared in his de-spatch No. 8 of 26th June last, that the decision of the Emperor, under the reference of 26 March 1851, is what he declared in his Despatch No. 9 of 21 March 1853, and during the Emperor of the 8th November 1855: that appeal declaration made by Mr Perrin cannot be disregarded, although the King & Cabinet, had never under-stood those declarations of Mr Perrin, as all the Foreigners that were to be presented: & the under the Resolution of the 26 March 1851

In view of these facts, & of the further explained by the late King & his Council on the 26 March 1851, the Members of the Cabinet present are recommending the King to receive the presents offered as a "grand mark of the appro-bation & sentiments of the Emperor", this Majesty making such a reply to Mr Perrin's address, as to this majesty may seem decent

Mr Wyllie, referring to the reasons of peace & public policy which had induced the withholding of his report of July 1857 to the King on certain principles & charges made to Mr. Perrin's despatch No 8 of 26 June last & equally to the withholding of the counter statement of the Prince & himself of 2 September last to Mr Perrin's written statement of 25th August & stating the fact that the unsigned, unofficial & suppressed Protocals were incorporated by Mr. Perrin along with the signed Protocals proposed that to counteract the possible effect of one sided statements an official reply should be sent to Mr. Perrin's No 8 and that the counter statement should be sent to him Also that the correspondence between Kapeau and l'Abbe Marchal in March 1856, favorable to both as of opposite Christian Creeds, should be published

After a long discussion, it was agreed that the drafts submitted by Mr Wyllie being counter should be forwarded to Mr. Perrin but giving him the option to return them, if he should perceive to suppress his No 8 of 26 June & statement of 25th August.

It was considered that there was no objection to the publication of the correspondence between Kapeau & l'Abbe Marchal, but on the contrary that their example of reconciliation among Christians was worthy of imitation by others in the same circumstances.

Upon a long discussion, it was agreed that the Papers submitted by Mr Lyons, being considered should be forwarded to the Persian, but young Lyons was instructed to return them, if he should promise to suppress his Nos. 8 & 26 June & Statement of 25th August.

Whereas the following Articles for part of the Ministerial Policy of the late King, signed by all his Ministers on the 20th June 1845, as per Copy delivered to His Majesty, namely;-

"4. I admit that chiefly owing to American Missionaries the Natives have made great progress in letters and Religion, and that they are capable of being so trained, as to be able to Conduct the Affairs of Government officially. But I consider they are yet, by far from having arrived at that pitch of Civilization"

"5th " I consider that they can only be brought to that pitch by promoting Education, the careful study of proper Books and the practical training which they may receive by ascending through the different gradations of office, under Foreign Ministers.

6th I consider it the duty of the King's Ministers who are foreigners to surrender their Commissions to His Majesty, whenever it may please Him to appoint properly qualified Natives to the offices they now hold; and I hereby engage to surrender the Commission I now hold by the grace of the King;

Whereas the Separation of the Ministerial Report with that subject which the preceding principles imply, has practically entailed great labour on the Several Ministers, and very great expense to his Majesty's Treasury, for Copying, translations and printing, without a corresponding benefit to the

The Hon'ble Premier stated the details of the foregoing supplementary Estimates for the Interest.
The Premier explained to what the sum of $15,241.51 was to be appropriated for the 2 Agricultural of Stock, Crops, Implements &c, under the direction regulations for the encouragement of agriculture. The Premier explained that the

It was proposed to strike out the $25,000 for the King's Palace, and the whole Supplementary Bill, and to be submitted in the Financial Report to the Legislature and that the Hon'ble Premier's suggestion of an appropriation for Agricultural purposes, be brought forward in the same manner. It was agreed also that the Hon'ble Attorney General should bring the matter under the notice of the Legislature.
The Militia Estimates should be laid aside, there being a question of omitting the appropriating for the Militia, and the Hon'ble Premier thought that should be omitted, but the Hon'ble Attorney General thought the matter should be left under the existing regulations, and that the Militia Grant should be the same as for the present year. Some discussion took place on this question, when it was generally agreed to, but it was agreed that as yet the time was not arrived to make the change.
A discussion took place on the question of the Salary of the District Attorney, and on the question being put to the Attorney General, the Hon'ble Premier said as Premier, he thought should be made, stating he would suggest to Capt. Butler the Salary, & hope the effect would be to induce him to prepare his Bill better.
It was agreed that the Salary of the District Attorney be fixed at £100 for the 2 years, & that the Hon'ble Premier suggest to Capt. Butler the Salary of the Supreme & Circuit Courts should be £50 for 2 years.

The King stated that he had convoked the Cabinet to consider the Address to him by both Houses of the Legislature on the subject of the Amendments to the Constitution

Upon this matter Mr Allen submitted his views in detail which were discussed.

Mr Judd said his opinion that the Constitution required amendment in several articles beyond those which have been submitted to the Legislature, so as to strengthen and emphasize the Royal Prerogative but, in view of expediency, questioned the propriety of asking the House of Representatives more than they were likely to consent to.

The reduction of the No (number) of Representatives which had been proposed was discussed, also the number of the House of Nobles & it was thought the House of Representatives would be jealous of any considerable reduction of the number of the Representatives

Mr Wyllie read the 1st Section of the draft of his proposed act amending the Representation of the People which had been submitted to the Legislature of 1858, passed to 3rd Read on the 23rd July & substituted by 2 acts prepared by him of 30 July 1850, in which he (Mr Wyllie) had suggested

5	Representatives	for	Hawaii
5	"	"	Maui

1	"	"	Lanai.
5	"	"	Oahu
5	"	"	Kauai
& 1	"	"	Niihau
23	Representatives	in	all, in which act he (Mr Wyllie) had proposed a certain property qualification both for Electors & for Representatives, He now thought as the population had diminished & perhaps did not exceed 70,000 souls that 23 Representatives were too many & ought to be reduced, because 23 members for 70,000 people was a more extended representation than existed any where in the World and he believed that with 2 men for each of the large Islands, selected for their intelligence & property the people would be better represented & that more Governors would be done (see page 178)

Cabinet Council at the Palace the 12th August 1864

Present The King Presiding

" The Speaker
" The Ministers

The King stated that the last conversation the Cabinet to consider the address to him in both Houses of the Legislature, on the Subject of the Amendments to the Constitution.

Upon this matter the Ministers expressed their views in detail, which were also submitted.

The Speaker stated his opinion that the Constitution, requires Amendment, in several articles being ambiguous, & some which have been construed to the Legislature, so as to stop the Action of another Branch of the Legislature, & in point of expediency, questioned the propriety of altering the Number of Representatives, more than being were likely to Compact to.

The reduction of the No of Representatives which had been proposed, was disapproved of by the Members of the House of Assembly, & it was thought the Number of Representatives would be pleasing to any considerable reduction of the Number in the Representative.

The Speaker read the Address of his proposed Act amending the Representation of the People which had been submitted to the Legislature in 1854 proposed to the Law on the 23 July & subscribed by 2 of its Members in July 1854, in which he (the Speaker) proposed Representatives for Kauai

23 Representatives in all; in which Act, he (the Speaker) had proposed certain proportion qualifications between the Electors & the Representatives. The same principle as the Population had since increased, & probably had not exceed 70,000 Souls. That 23 Representatives were too many, & ought to be reduced, because 23 Members for 70,000 people would be more extended representation than exists any where in the World; & he believed that under 2 years, for every of the large Islands selected for their intelligence & property, the people would be better represented, & that more Business would be done, than under the 27 Mem that at present existed or the 23 that he had proposed - It was objected that the House of Representatives would be alarmed by any such proposal, Mr Wyllie thought that if it pleased the King, in the exercise of His Prerogative, to keep the House of Lords a small body, composed of intelligent & experienced men, that objection by the House of Representatives would be overcome.

Mr Allen read his proposed amendments in detail, which were generally approved of -

Mr Gregg suggested that in regard to respect by Foreign Governments to the decisions of the Supreme Court, in the cases of Foreigners likely to come before the Court the 88th Article of the Constitution was susceptible of improvement; Mr Wyllie was of the same opinion & explained what Mr Borden had repeatedly stated to him on the subject - Mr Allen thought that practically, there was little occasion for amendment & asked Mr Wyllie if there had been any complaints since he was Chief Judicial, Mr Wyllie said none whatever, but that there had been before and his view of amendment, without the slightest distrust that Mr Allen would ever give occasion for it, but it was deemed that the wording of the article should not give a pretense to Foreign Agents either for suspicion or for groundless Charges - That in this Kingdom the Supreme Judges were, as is general, not independent of the Executive - For instance it might be added to the 88th article: It being understood that this article implies no obligation upon the said Judges to give any opinion on any case, that they may consider likely afterwards to come before them for Judicial decision

Mr Wyllie suggested that as the King Himself on the 25 February 1859 had first called the attention of His Cabinet to the necessity of amending the Constitution & as the 2 Houses had now opened the subject to His Majesty, on a broad basis, it might be advisable for them to consider Mr Allen's proposed amendments towards the Constitution itself and to have another meeting on the subject of it as please His Majesty. Mr Wyllie

27 June that the Privy Council on the 23 June he had proposed. It was agreed that the Clause of Disallowance should be abandoned by the Senate Proposal. The Bill was to pass & this Proposal, to take the Clause of Disallowance, & to make Provision for settling at a subsequent time, & by some other Act, the Clause of Disallowance should be omitted.

The Bill was read this Morning in Detail, when Mr Gray suggested that in regard to the Power of Disallowance & the decisions of the Supreme Court, in the case of Parties asking to come before the Court, the 58th Article of the Constitution was susceptible of improvement. The Bill was then read a Second time, & ordered that the Premier should specially state to the Governor Subject. The Bill then passed through Committee, & ordered to be reported with Amendments.

Mr Gray moved that the Bill be recommitted, in order that the 58th Article of the Constitution might be altered. He thought that the Power of Disallowance should be abandoned, & that the Courts should have a Power to pass Judgment after the Sovereign had finally given Assent to the Bill. The Premier said that the Government had considered the Question, & had come to the conclusion that it was desirable that the Power of Disallowance should be retained. He moved that the Bill be recommitted, in order that the 58th Article of the Constitution might be altered, so as to read as follows:- "The Governor may reserve any Bill for the Signification of Her Majesty's pleasure thereon, or may return any Bill to the Legislative Council & House of Representatives, & may recommend to the consideration of both Houses any Amendments which he may think desirable in the Bill, & may return any Bill within one Year after it has been presented to him for the Signification of Her Majesty's pleasure thereon, & the Legislative Council & House of Representatives may pass the Bill with or without any Amendments which may be recommended by the Governor, & may present the Bill so amended to the Governor for the Signification of Her Majesty's pleasure thereon." The Bill was then recommitted, & the Premier moved that the 58th Article of the Constitution be altered as proposed. Mr Gray moved that the Bill be reported to the House with the Amendments. The Bill was reported accordingly.

The Bill was read a third time on the 28 February 1857, but Mr Gray called the attention of the Colonial Secretary to the necessity of amending the Constitution Act before the Bill could receive the Royal Assent. The Bill was then passed, & ordered to be presented to His Majesty for the Royal Assent. It was considered necessary to call the attention of the Colonial Secretary to the necessity of amending the Constitution Act before the Bill could receive the Royal Assent. The Bill was then passed, & ordered to be presented to His Majesty for the Royal Assent.

The King brought up the question of the obligation of the Govt. to pay the passage of Mr Hopkins to London, founded on the engagement, made by the late Mr Richards, in his letter to Mr Hopkins, dated 29 April 1844 which letter His Majesty read. Mr Wyllie stated that he had letters in his archives, both from Mr Richards and from Sir Geo. Simpson proving that Mr Hopkins had been employed in London to come out to these Kingdoms under a promise of being appointed either to the office of Collector of Customs or that of Editor of a Government Newspaper, for either of which offices Sir George strongly recommended him. After the King had perused the letter which he had read to Mr Allen and one from Sir G. Simpson of 5th August 1844 to Mr Pelly, to consider the equity & legality of paying Mr Hopkins passage in the absence of any appropriation and the Queens reply. That if Mr Richards had sufficient powers from the late King, it was to be viewed equitably in the light of a contract binding upon the late King and consequently upon the present Government. Mr Wyllie added that Mr Richards powers were most ample, some further discussion took place upon whether the Legislature would approve of the payment Mr Gregg stated that he did not wish to do any thing in this department that would subject him to impeachment, knowing as he did that there were parties hostile to him who already contemplated packing the Legislature in personal hostility to him. To obviate that difficulty Mr Wyllie suggested, that if the Legislature should refuse that sum should be replaced in the Treasury with interest. The King objected to this, and suggested that if such a result should follow. He and His Ministers present, should, after the precedent of what had been done in the case of the Lincoln Boy, each sign an obligation, individually & collectively, to refund the same to the Treasury Whereupon the following Resolution was unanimously passed viz

Resolved that in the opinion of the King & Cabinet His Majesty's Government are bound in honor & equity to carry into effect the pledge

The King stated that he had received letters in his absence both from Mr Richards and from Sir Geo Seymour, praying that the Ionians might be encouraged in Greece, to come out to the King's Islands, with a promise of being appointed either to the Office of Collector of Customs or that of Clerk of a Revenue Department, for either of which offices Sir George Seymour recommended him. After the King had received the letters from Mr Richards, he had received a letter from Sir Henry Storks, requesting that he would use his influence with the Ionians to induce them to accept the offer of the Protectorate of the Ionian Islands, by the British Government, and to proceed to Greece, to support the application which was to be made to the Greek Government for the cession of the Ionian Islands to Great Britain. He had also received a letter from Mr Richards, Secretary to the Lord High Commissioner, stating that the Ionian Parliament had met and had come to a resolution upon the subject, and that a Deputation from the Ionian Parliament would proceed to England to present the Resolution to the Queen

The King said he had convened the Cabinet to consider an address from the House of Representatives dated 9th. August & received by him same day.

After a discussion, which was rather hurried, on account of the Session of the House of Peoples, it was agreed that Mr Allen and Mr Wyllie should each draw up their ideas of a becoming reply. After some amendment the draft proposed by Mr Allen was approved.

Mr Bragg, very properly, declined giving opinion in his own case, and because, as he said, he had drafted a letter to the King, which in fact he had now in his pocket. He had not presented it as yet, because to his right of self defence under the Constitution, it was indispensable to preserve his ministerial character & besides he had other reasons.

For the sake of record on an occasion so grave the drafts of the reply framed by Mr Allen & that framed by Mr Wyllie are entered herein.

Lord Chancellor
Duke of Montrose
Duke of Roxburgh
Lord Hawkesbury
Lord Eldon

The King said he had summoned this Cabinet to consider an address from the House of Representatives adopted by the Senate & agreed to by this House, which he had received by his Secretary.

Upon a discussion, which was rather long, it appeared, on account of the absence of Lord Mulgrave, it was agreed that the address ought not to be finally settled & drawn up this day & a meeting was appointed for the 27th instant, when some amendments to the draught prepared by Lord Hawkesbury were proposed. The King, very properly declined giving any opinion, in his own case, and he withdrew. Lord Hawkesbury then left the Cabinet, & returned to Downing Street, where he had more time in his power. He had not finished it as yet, because it is necessary to be very explicit, upon the Constitution, & he was in doubt whether he should preserve his Ministerial character & therefore he had other views.

The two Letters of Recall are not settled as yet. The drafts of the replies framed by Lord Hawkesbury & those framed by Lord Eldon, are entirely different.

To the Hon: House of Representatives

I have received, by the hand of the Speaker the Address of your Honorable Body, bearing date the 5th Inst. in relation to the Administration of the Department of Finance.

The Constitution provides a Remedy against all Officers of any Kind for Misconduct and Maladministration in their Offices; but as you have thought proper to present to me your Causes of Complaint, you may rest assured that they shall have my Candid Con-

- tederation, and that I shall secure such an Administration of the Office as will under lose the Public confidence and Credit.

(Signed) Kamehameha.

Palace August 11. 1862.

I received on the 9th of this Month an Address, of that date, from the Honorable Representatives of My People, by the hands of their Speaker, and signed by their Secretary, in which, after alleging certain charges against My Minister of Finance, they express the wish to be able to make known to their Constituents, that during the next two years the National Finances would be so managed, as to be free from the charges referred to.

Having duly considered the subject, in all its bearings, I feel great pleasure in informing the Honorable House, that previous to the receipt of their Address, I had ordered a new Set of Books to be opened in My Treasury, and to be kept in a Manner that will render impossible the occurrence of the disorders and errors that are alleged to have been discovered in the old Books. It will be my care that the Department of Finance, be so conducted as to deserve my own Confidence and that of My Legislature

Reposing full confidence in the assurances of your Loyalty and devotion to My Person, I cannot doubt you will receive the information now conveyed and the assurance given, as a satisfactory acknowledgment of your Address.

The minutes of 16 September 1862 were read
The King stated that he had convened the Cabinet to make known to them that the expenses occasioned by the death & funeral of His late son, the Prince of Hawaii were large & his own private expenses connected therewith were also great. What he wished to be considered by the Cabinet was the question of relieving himself by drawing the amount of the Appropriation for the late Prince & further the balance of the expenses beyond that appropriation, on the express condition of applying for a Bill of Indemnity to the next Legislature.
Each present was of opinion, that the Representatives of the people must alone grant the Bill of Indemnity
The Chief Justice elected the following Resolution, which was unanimously passed.

The minutes of the 16 September 1862 were read

The King stated that he had convened the Cabinet to make known to them that the expenses occasioned by the death of Prince Alexander Liholiho, were heavy, & his own private expenses connected therewith, were very great. That he wished to be enabled to meet them, & therefore requested the Ministers to bring before the Legislature, during the present session of the Legislature for the Hawaiian Islands, & position the Cabinet is prepared to support that application, on the express condition of applying for a Vote of Indemnity to the next Legislature

All present were of opinion that the Representatives of the People, will not refuse grant a Bill of Indemnity.

Mr Chief Justice suggested the following Resolution which was unanimously passed:

"Whereas the lamented death of His Royal Highness, The Prince of Hawaii has occurred since the last adjournment of the Legislative Council; and

Whereas large Expenses were incurred in the Proper observance of His funeral Obsequies - Therefore

Resolved, by the Cabinet, That the Minister of Finance, be and hereby is authorized, and directed to pay the sum of $4.569.62 Cents which was incurred for the funeral Expenses, and which is regarded by us as strictly embraced within the Exigencies for Expenditures, not appropriated for, as contemplated

See page 281.

It was expressly understood that, if contrary to all probability the Legislature should refuse a Bill of Indemnity, the members of the King's Council would themselves, jointly & severally be liable for the amount.

The King referred to the recommendation of the Cabinet, stating that although the land titles would be left to certain of the old members, but he had withheld them, till he could fill up the office of Minister of Finance as it was according to the previous understanding.

The King then directed Prince Kamehameha & Mr Wyllie to resume their Portfolios.

His Majesty was pleased to appoint Prince Kamehameha, provisionally, Minister of Finance, so that Mr Green, in accordance with his own wishes, might have time to arrange his own affairs.

The King brought up the subject of a Charter to the Hawaiian Episcopal Church, and that of making some endowment to any College that the Episcopalians might establish for Boys or Girls, subject to the laws of the Kingdom & the Board of Public Instruction as have been made to Christian Institutions of the same kind. This was remitted for further consideration.

The King adjourned the Cabinet till his further pleasure.

by the Constitution, and recognized by Precedent, for we feel quite sure that had the Legislature been in Session, the necessary Appropriation would have been promptly made.

see page 290

It was expressly understood that if, contrary to our probabilities, the Legislature should refuse a Vote of indemnity, the Ministry in office should make up the sum out of their Salaries for the present

The King referred to the reconstruction of the Cabinet, stating that although he had letters written to certain of the old Ministers, but the hand withheld them, that he could fill up the Office of the Minister of Finance, as he was desirous to stop foreign intercourse.

The King then directed Prince Kamehameha and Mr Wyllie to remain their Portfolios.

His Majesty was pleased to appoint Prince Kamehameha, Privy Councillor, Minister of Finance, pro tem. He is sent for, in accordance with his own wishes, request time to consider his answer.

The King brought up the subject of a Church to the Hawaiian Episcopal Church - also that of making some endowment to any College that the Episcopalians might establish - Yes, subject to the laws of the Kingdom & the Board of public instruction, as best time suitable to Colonize the Inhabitants of the same Island

This was referred for further consideration
